Hello fellow JOAG members,

My name is LCDR Kate Flanigan Sawyer. I joined the Commissioned Corps in 2009 and serve in the Medical category. I grew up in Denver, CO. I received my undergraduate degree at Boston College, and my Medical degree as well as my masters in Public Health at Tulane University in New Orleans. I completed my residencies at Alameda County Medical Center in Oakland, CA and University of Colorado Health Sciences Center in Denver, CO.

Currently, I am stationed in Denver, Colorado and work as a physician for Federal Occupational Health (FOH). Specifically, I am the Medical Director for the FOH Automated External Defibrillator (AED) program--we provide comprehensive AED services to the Federal government.

As the JOAG Medical PAC Liaison, and as the chair for the Development Committee, I look forward to working with you!
