

DoD- Defense Health Agency

Who are we?

The Defense Health Agency (DHA) is a joint, integrated Combat Support Agency that enables the Army, Navy, and Air Force medical services to provide a medically ready force to Combatant Commands in both peacetime and wartime. The DHA uses the principles of Ready Reliable Care to advance high reliability practices across the Military Health System by improving system operations, driving innovative solutions, and cultivating a culture of safety.

Career Opportunities for Mental Health and Traumatic Brain Injury (TBI) Clinicians

Corps officers detailed under this MOA will provide clinical support and coordination in the development of subject matter expert activities in areas of mutual interest to DHA and Corps mental health and TBI programs important to the Nation's Health. The assignments will assist DHA in (1) carrying out responsibilities for the effective delivery of mental health and TBI care for Military Health System beneficiaries; (2) providing the Corps with an opportunity to share expert personnel; and (3) providing opportunities for Corps officers to participate in unique professional experiences.
